*Special Rules for Interdisciplinary Distribution Classes

An asterisk (*) on the list below denotes an Interdisciplinary Studies course that appears under two or more distribution areas. Such a course may be counted for distribution credit in only one area, to be determined by the student. The student's second distribution course in the selected area cannot be another Interdisciplinary Studies course. For example, if a student elects to count Classics 211-0 in Area V, the second distribution course in Area V must be a course with no asterisk.

For complete rules regarding interdisciplinary distros see
